terday afternoon in honor of Miss Noland.

Brown-Harrison.
Miss Lillian Gorham Harrison, eldest daughter of former Mayor Peyton Randolph Harrison, of Martinsburg, W. Va., was quietly married at 2 o'clock Wednesday to Forrest Augustus Brown, son of Colonel Forrest W. Brown, of Charleston, W. Va., the ceremony being performed by Dr. F. M. Woods, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, at the home of the bride.

The bride was attired in a Parisian gown of white lace, ornamented with her mother's pearls and handsome diamond brooch, gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and lavender orchids. The maid of honor was Miss Sarah Hunter Harrison, of Bel Air, Md., a cousin of the bride. She wore a gown of fawn-colored crepe miter, trimmed with pearls, set cloth of gold, and carried pink roses. The groom was accompanied by Walter Washington Alexander, of Baltimore, as his best man.

The house was beautifully decorated with palms and many candles. Illuminated by many candles. Owing to recent bereavement in the bride's family, only the immediate relatives of both families and a few intimate friends were invited.

A luncheon was served immediately after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Brown left on the afternoon train for a fortnight trip, after which they will settle in Charleston, where Mr. Brown is practicing law in partnership with his father.

There will be the usual informal reception at the Country Club on Virginia this afternoon, followed by dancing. The clubhouse is bright with red flowers and several big dinners will be given there to-night. Miss Emily Lyman, a daughter of last winter, is entertaining a party of friends at dinner to-night. The guests will attend the hop following dinner. Any number of small dinners will be given and several are to be given in honor of out-of-town guests.

Wedding of Interest.
The social event of the Sussex season took place Thursday evening, when Miss Frances Glenmore Wrenn, of Sussex, was given in marriage to Marvin Dible Goodrich, of Petersburg. The bride, dressed in ivory satin embroidered in pearls, and carrying a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, entered on the arm of her brother, Lawrence B. Wrenn, who gave her away.

Miss Elizabeth Everett, of Norfolk, was maid of honor and wore yellow messaline, with an overdress of dew-drop chiffon and pearl trimmings, and carried an arm bouquet of sunset roses. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas E. Bryant, of Petersburg, eldest daughter of the bride, who wore yellow messaline, with gold trimmings, and carried sunset roses. Miss Hortense Wrenn, of Sussex, and Miss Ruth Wrenn, of "Greenyard," were bridesmaids, and wore white silk marquisette over yellow messaline, with crystal trimmings, and carried maidenhair ferns and yellow tulips. Little Misses Nancy Wrenn and Margaret Lamb were the ribbon girls, and looked lovely in their dainty dresses of white silk. Wrenn Carlyle Bryant, the bride's little nephew, carried the ring in a calli Lily.

The groom entered with his brother, James Embra Goodrich, of Petersburg, who was best man. The groomsmen were Harry Flinn, of Albemarle; Embra Hardaway, of Blackstone; Victor Haines, of Carleton; and Ernest Hiseock, of Sutherland. Miss Lill Goodrich, of Henderson, N. C., rendered the wedding march, accompanied by W. J. Burleigh on the violin. During the ceremony Schubert's "Serenade" was softly played. Rev. W. W. Edwards, of Waverly, performed the ceremony, immediately after which a reception was given. The color scheme, yellow and green, was carried out in the decorations in the dining-room and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich left for St. Louis, and will visit Niagara Falls and Canada before their return. They will be at home on Filmore Street, Petersburg, after February 15.

Those present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harrison, of Warfield; Miss Lill Goodrich, Henderson, N. NEW OFFICIALS OF COUNTY TAKE CHARGE OF OFFICES
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Cape Charles, Va., January 5.—The new officials of this county took charge on Monday. R. W. Nottingham, who has the past twenty years been in charge of the clerk's office, either as deputy or later as clerk, surrendered the office to George T. Tyson, the newly elected clerk. The latter has as his deputy H. R. Thomas, of Alexandria office, and was himself a candidate for the office there, but was defeated. The new treasurer, W. D. Downes, was on hand and took over the money of the treasury. The books have not yet been turned over owing to the fact that it is necessary to check over the itemized list. J. B. Wise, the retiring treasurer, has been in office seventeen years. R. L. Alworth, the retiring commissioner of the revenue, turned over the books of his office to C. H. Savage. The three justices of the peace in the Capeville district failed to qualify in time, and there are vacancies in the office. The new justices will have to be filled by the judge of the Circuit Court. The first meeting of the new Board of Supervisors took place also this week, and H. S. Knight, the new member, was chosen chairman in the place of J. A. Jarvis. Messrs. Jarvis and Dunton succeeded themselves in their positions.

The work of building a shell road from Exmore to Willis wharf, in the upper part of the county, has been completed. This was done with the State aid, as in the case of Eastville. This will make about $7,500 of the State roads fund to come to this county.

FARMER FROZEN TO DEATH
Howling of Dog Directs Searchers to Master's Body.
Ness City, Kan., January 5.—The howling of a dog led to the discovery near this city to-day of the body of E. Taylor, a farmer, who had fallen from his wagon on the way to market and frozen to death by the elements. Taylor's team was found by farmers yesterday wandering about the country. A searching party was organized. It had traveled over miles of drifted country roads when the party came upon Taylor's dog shivering beside the snow-covered body of his master. Taylor left a widow and five small children.

At least four persons are known to have frozen to death in this section of Western Kansas since the heavy snow and cold wave came, a week ago.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON.

Like Mother Used to Do.
There is a cooking table dot and there's a cooking cart.
In the bang up, high-toned caffs, but I'll tell you, for my part, I don't hanker for the eatin' that is printed out in French.

Where it's hard to get sufficient for your appetite to quench. 'Course there ain't no use to holler when you get into the game. Where the bean soup costs a dollar and the toothpicks costs the same.

But, although this fancy dies in the style, twist me and you, it ain't in it with the cookin' that our mothers used to do.

I ain't never seen no cheffioner in any place or spot. Who could turn out real good pork cake, and I've been around a lot.

I've inquired for good old fashioned, sweet pudding quite a bit. But somehow it always happens that they are just out of it.

And them bakin' powder biscuits. Queens they certainly had class. Don't you recollect with pleasure that old home-made apple saas?

There were hundreds of swell dishes. I ain't time to name 'em through.

But 'twas fine and dandy cookin' that our mothers used to do.

You remember how she hankered to cater to your wish. And experimented to find out what was your favorite dish.

How she studied up the cook books, lookin' out for something new.

How she'd work all day to fix a dish to proudly spring on you.

You recall the satisfaction that her smiling features bore.

When you ate the first instalment and loudly called for more.

The art of caterin' depends upon the point of view.

Guess their hearts was in the cookin' that our mothers used to do.

MONASTERY DESTROYED
Monks Lose Stores and Must Depend on Charity.
Winnepeg, Man., January 5.—The Trappist Monastery at St. Norbert, Man., was destroyed by fire yesterday. The fire was spectacular in that the old building went down in half an hour.

The fifty-three monks sought shelter in a new monastery nearby, and the old monastery was nearly completely destroyed.

All the winter's stores were lost, and the monks will be obliged to depend upon the charity of the farmers for sustenance until next summer.

The turned building was erected twenty years ago, and was the first built by the Trappists when they started operations. It was one of only three in America.
